*There will be a PdWeekend October 4-6 in San Diego instigated by Miller and Friends (as ever). It's a happy circumstance that I don't need to explain to Pd-list what a *PdWeekend* (as if I could.)*

Rather you should simply ask someone who's already participated in a PdW with us all. The usual suspects are right now percolating the kettle as an ad-hoc steering committee.

("Steering" here is actually more like the merry-go-round that Hans and friends devised at the Madagascar Institute ...)

The 2019 PdWeekend events will take place in San Diego and Los Angeles
October 4 - 6 (Fri-Sun)

- Starting of on Friday with a little welcome and "gear tech-handout&munching" session Friday afternoon
- *a RaspberryPi(4) *box lunch* ... which will actually be RPi-box-dinner-and-speakers-&-demos*
- round-workbenching on Saturday featuring all the edgy-leading-edgers of Pd and NB/SuitSup we can gather
- Saturday afternoon/evening and Sunday gala events at CrashSpace LA and with the CrashSpace neighborhood arts-tech-conspiracies
- Handmade music and beer, of course (and handmade beer, maybe)

*This July 5 message is far to preliminary to be an *announcement**

But let it rather be a provocation for you to float your ideas to the list or elsewhere as you like.

It's always great to meet up again with a neighbor from Pd-land — anywhere in the world.

Why not plan to do it next in Southern California?
