

From JOKHA No. 485 ORFK

It is a tablet from the temple archives, relating to the sacrifices. It is unusual because it bears writing in every possible spot, and the lines on one end are curved to fit the contour of the tablet.

Date - about 2200 B.C.

Guaranteed genuine,

Edgar J. Banks.